Raglan hosts the hope Together we can save Māui Dolphins

Raglan loves Māui Dolphins! Let's show what communities can do to help save them. Whaingaroa is known throughout the country for being a community that cares about Māui Dolphins and for the last 14 years Raglan has come together to celebrate our community and our environment.

On Saturday March 12th, we do it again on Māui Dolphin Day. Come and show your support, from 11am till 3pm.

Those working for Māui Dolphin will be making their way here to answer your questions and let you know the latest Māui news. Waikato Regional Council, the Department of Conservation and Forest and Bird will be among the agencies here for the event. Nicola Toki the DOC Threatened Species Ambassador, will be bringing her whānau to enjoy the day and helping with our Māui Survival Challenge obstacle course for kids.

It's a day for the community, and an opportunity for your group to raise funds with a food stall or an activity. Timebank Raglan will be there, showcasing community skills we can all share like harakeke weaving. Bring the whānau to meet the local shore critters in the touch pool with conservation group Karioi Maunga ki te Moana. And now's the time to get building your Recycled Raft!

It's also a chance to for our local talent to take to the stage. Watch the Majestic Unicorns play their recycled instruments, listen to the sweet sounds of the Wandering Dulcet choir, have a boogie to the energetic Sambatron and Reely Jiggy will get your toes tapping with Irish tunes.

Remember, Māui Dolphin Day is a zero waste event. Please think about this if you pack a picnic for the day! Use reusable containers and cups. Or support our food stalls, who'll be fundraising for local projects and using compostable, zero-waste packaging. And to make sure we keep Whaingaroa beautiful, Dizzy Blocks are sponsoring with free ice blocks to everyone who joins our Maui Dolphin Day beach clean-up. Mā te wā!
